DETAILED ACTION

Status of Claims

1. Claims 1-24 are pending.
2. Claims 1, 3-8, 10, and 20-24 are rejected.
3. Claims 2, 9, and 11-19 are non-elected and withdrawn from consideration.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments and amendments filed May 22, 2006, with respect to "carbon-carbon bond unsaturation containing amines" have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection over Blount et al. of U.S. Patent No. 5,563,285 is withdrawn.

5. Applicant's arguments filed May 22, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive with respect to the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). Applicants present the following arguments. First, applicant attempts to argue that Riediker et al. do not teach of a teach to "carbon-carbon bond unsaturation containing amines." However, the prior art reference of Riediker et al. teach of the presence of an amine compound with carbon-carbon unsaturation, namely, dialkylaminomethyldifluorobromophenyl, (see from column 5, line 68 to column 6, line 1). In addition, applicant recites the word "comprising", which is open-claim language. It is held that "the word 'comprising' incorporates additional steps of procedures and does not exclude materials or processes not recited in the claim". Gould v. Mossinghoff, Comr. Pats., (DCCD 1982) 215 USPQ 310.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 3-8, 10, 13, 20, 21, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Riediker et al. of U.S. Patent No. 4,857,654. Riediker et al. teach of a composition of an amine Riediker et al. teach of the presence of an amine compound with carbon-carbon unsaturation, namely, dialkylaminomethyldifluorobromophenyl, (see from column 5, line 68 to column 6, line 1), hydroxyl bearing, unsaturated esters, (i.e., triethylene glycol dimethacrylate of column 7, lines 58-59), and the oligol of triethylene glycol of column 7, line 43).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 1614

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. The rejection of claims 3 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Blount et al. of U.S. Patent No. 5,563,285 is withdrawn in response to the amendment of May 22, 2006.

11. Claims 1, 3-8, 10, 13, and 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Riediker et al. of U.S. Patent No. 4,857,654. Riediker et al. teach of a composition of an amine compound with carbon-carbon unsaturation, namely, dialkylaminomethyldifluorobromophenyl, (see from column 5, line 68 to column 6, line 1), hydroxyl bearing, unsaturated esters, (i.e., triethylene glycol dimethacrylate of column 7, lines 58-59), and the oligol of triethylene glycol of column 7, line 43). The selection of a known material based on its suitability for its intended use supported a prima facie case for obviousness determination in Sinclair & Carroll Co. v. Interchemical Corp., 325 U.S. 327, 65 USPQ 297 (1945). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to use the composition of Blount with an intended use recitation of using the claimed composition for latex. In addition, the courts have held, In re Swinehart, 169 USPQ 226, “a newly discovered property does not necessarily mean that the product is unobvious, since this property may be inherent in the prior art.” Accordingly, the fact that when these known compounds are combined, as they were in the prior art, a toxic low environmental composition would be an inherent feature with this composition.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
